

Miriam Paramore
Senior Vice President –
Corporate Strategy, Government Affairs, and Public Relations
Emdeon, Inc.

As Senior Vice President of Corporate Strategy, Government Affairs and Public Relations for Emdeon, Miriam Paramore is responsible for solidifying strategic positioning and delivering the message to the public and private sectors. Paramore has extensive healthcare and technology experience, is a national speaker, has been published in numerous industry trade journals, and recently joined the board of trustees for CareSource Management Group. Paramore is also a member of the national board of directors for the Health Information Management Systems Society (HIMSS), and the immediate past Chair of the Louisville Health Information Exchange. She currently chairs the HIMSS Financial Systems Steering Committee, and serves on the eHealth Advisory Committee for the Commonwealth of Kentucky. As a longtime advocate for HIT in the public sector, Paramore helped lead the 2008 and 2009 HIMSS Kentucky State Advocacy Days and participated in many HIMSS Advocacy Days in DC. She is working actively to reframe the conversation about healthcare in the U.S. around simple cost-saving initiatives that are available today. She delivered opening remarks to The Health Policy Forum at the 2008 Democratic National Convention in Denver.
